

Patient Information Gathering Tool

Get the Exact System You Want

Web-Based & Easy to Use

Getting information from patients is often challenging. Many existing systems only tackle a small portion of the problem. Most ask a hard-coded set of questions. But what if the information you need isn't exactly what they offer?

The Patient Information Gathering Tool development environment allows you to build whatever you want.

Delivery of the working product is almost as fast as you can type the sample survey into a word processing document.

How do I build my application?

The easiest and fastest way to get your application built is to give us a paper version and let us quickly convert it into our framework. Alternatively, we can train your personnel to use our framework and let them do most of the work themselves.

Key Features:

- Gather any information you want
- Select your own look and feel
- Infinitely customizable
- Well-tested
- Extremely user-friendly interface
- Replace paper forms
- Hosted in HIPAA-secure facility
- Support for any browser, tablet, or mobile device
